

I feel that it's the Republicans who are more hypocritical.

user1

I agree, they are kind of touchy lately

user2

I say this because they complain about everything the democrats do, for example increased spending/deficit spending, but under Trump the deficit exploded.

user1

what do you think about that?

user1

I think since Trump everyone thinks of him as the representative of "their party". He is what they all are now a days

user2

I disagree though

user2

Yes this is true, they are blindly supporting trump.

user1

I think it's unfair, and we need some middle ground when it comes to politics, especially from the republicans.

user1

I think everyone is worried about being woke they have forgotten the point

user2

peace love hope faith
